

Cookie Policy

This cookie policy describes how KlickEx uses “cookies” and other similar technologies, in connection with our Site and Services.

What is a Cookie?

Cookies are small text files that are stored in a computer's browser directory. They help site providers with things like understanding how people use a site, remembering a user's login details and storing site preferences.

Does KlickEx use Cookies?

Yes, we use cookies in accordance with our Privacy Policy to:

- ensure that our services function properly,
- detect and prevent fraud,
- understand how visitors use and engage with our site, and
- analyse and improve services.

Who sets cookies when I use the KlickEx site?

There are a number of types of cookies that can be set:

- Strictly necessary cookies: these cookies are placed and read by us directly when you use our services and provide core functionality.
- Performance: these cookies are used for collecting data on how visitors behave on our website.
- Functional: these cookies allow websites to remember the user's website preferences and choices made on the website, including login details, geo-location, language and enhanced content.
- Targeting (advertisement): these are small, encrypted files that track users' actions and are used to identify users between different websites. Targeting cookies collect user information and use it to build a profile of a user's interests and then show personalised ads for that specific user.

How KlickEx uses cookies

Cookies play an important role in helping us provide effective and safe services. Below is a description of the commonly used cookie types and the purposes that apply to them. Each section references our cookies.

Strictly necessary cookies

Some cookies are essential to the operation of our site and services and make it usable and secure by enabling basic functions like page navigation and access to secure areas of the site. We use those cookies in several different ways, including:

- Authentication. To remember your login state so you don't have to log in as you navigate through our site and dashboard.
- Fraud prevention and detection. Cookies and similar technologies that we deploy through our site help us learn things about computers and web browsers used to access the services. This information helps us monitor for and detect potentially harmful or illegal use of our services. For example, in order to process payment transactions for our users, it is necessary for us to collect information about the transaction and the customer. To help secure these transactions and minimise fraud, we collect additional information through the use of cookies and other technologies in helping to help identify bad actors and prevent them from making fraudulent transactions. Customers should check our users' sites for more information about the use of our cookies for fraud detection.
- Security. To protect user data from unauthorised access.
- Functionality. To keep our site and services working correctly, we need to show you the right information for your selected location.

Performance cookies

Preference cookies are designed to help the user experience without tracking behaviour or personal data.

Functional cookies

Functional cookies are used to enhance the performance of websites, as without them, certain functions of the website may not be available. Functional cookies help to provide our services that a user requests. However, they are not vital for our website to run. They are anonymous and don't track users' browsing activity across other websites.

Targeting cookies

We and our service providers will use cookies and similar technologies on KlickEx.com to direct our ads to you through targeted advertisements for our services on other sites you visit and to measure your engagement with those ads.

Can I opt out?

Yes. You can opt out of cookies, with the exception of those cookies that are necessary to provide you with our services. Your web browser may allow you to manage your cookie preferences, including deleting and disabling our cookies.
